While coming to India, a friend told me “You know who you are when you are leaving for India, but you are unaware of who you would be when you return.” and it was absolute truth.

The last thing you should do is to try to understand India, to know India come to India. It is a beautiful experience to be experienced.

IMT Exchange program was best experience of my life, people are charming and welcoming. I was afraid to go to an unknown place but when you go to IMT-Nagpur you discover a new family, a new culture full of happiness, laughter and friends for life. Facilitators and non-teaching staff are around to help you, giving you advice etc.

Only one word can describe stay at India “Incredible”... IMT-Nagpur is my second home and family forever.
